

SOUND OF THE BLUE HEART: WIND OF CHANGE

EARLY MEDIA QUOTES

Second album just might be one of the mid-year's best so far... --Blurt Magazine

"The Spell", "Run for Cover" "Wind of Change" and "Never" could sit among Indovina's greatest offerings --In Utah this Week (UT)

"This stuff is so real...It sits down next to you...It goes to bed with you. It's Addicting!"
--LA Weekly (CA)

"Great" --Bluefat.com

"Well layered exploration into lyrical and musical shattered expectations."
--Music Connection (National)

"It's elegant, first and foremost. It's someone comfortable in his own skin, as his own self, happy to explore whatever rock and roll can be in his own fashion without having great concerns for what is fashionable." -- Ned Raggett, Freelance Music Writer (CA)

"An amazing record. I think one of the best of your career (re: Johnny Indovina).
--KMUD Public Radio, (CA)

"Run For Cover is a mellow and economically lush that seems to be about the human capacity to turn tail and run when things get hard. The guitar work here is exquisite, and Run For Cover is likely to become essential listening." -- Wildy's World Blog

"You're on the air. Thank you for sharing this great disc with us." --KKUP 91.5, (CA)

"I've been a Human Drama fan since the 80s. This disc is incredible. I will play any tracks you send." --
Radio Night Shift, live365.com, the Internet's largest radio station

"Human Drama and the Sound of The Blue Heart: The genius of Johnny Indovina."
--Famous Blue Raincoats Webzine/Blog

"An emotionally powerful disc, brutally honest and musically diverse. This is a winner."
--Tanya Silverman, Freelance Music Writer (NY)

"This is real music."

"Near Masterpiece"

"This is the kind of disc you put in the player and listen to over and over. A beautiful, powerful CD." --
Reviews from Amazon.com

"Johnny Indovina's songwriting is filled with passion and feelings. His lyrics draw you into personal experiences and the music is his need to share that with listeners. His observations are from the 'what if' point of view and then he crafts lyrics using his heart felt creativity. "Violet's Wish" is a beautiful blend of heartbreak and redemption. A solid chorus is supported by an array of beautifully blended instruments and the soulful blues guitar work gives the song an energetic lift at the end." --Mike Peacock, Sound in the Hall Radio and Records
